Holiday Greetings!

I have now lived in Colfax for two years and just took my first trip to the coast for Thanksgiving.
Jim and Elinor were driving over to Puyallup to see Dan and Robin and their children and that gave me the opportunity to go along to see my family (brother Lyle) at Lake Tapps and (sister Helen) in Chehalis.

I like my apartment in Hill-Ray. There are 3 floors with elevators and stairs and 45 apartments. It has wide carpeted hallways with handrails, a large meeting room with a fireplace which is used for wedding receptions and many large local gatherings. There is also a large dining room where we eat our dinner meal together. All the meals are really good and nicely served each day at 6pm.

I attend the Onecho Bible Chruch with Jim and Elinor. It is 12 miles from town in the middle of the Palouse wheat fields. This Sunday we had the Christmas program with the children- toddlers thru highschool. They had a total of 75 children. On Thursday night the adult choir presented a cantata called 'Welcome to Our World'. The church is large and well attended.

Jim and Elinor live 3mi. away and Jim still works with photography, microscopes and a large garden. He has 20 apple trees and brought apples to HillRay for everybody. I managed to deliver them around to all who wanted to make their own applesauce.

Bob and Hedi have lived in Charlotte. NC for about 15yr, but recently moved to Dana Point, CA. where Eric and Andrea live 5mi from them with their two children. Bob is still working but plans to retire soon. He enjoys sailing and just bought his own sail boat.

Kristi and Clay live 25mi. away with their 3 children in Palouse, where I lived when I was younger, so I see them often, but the other grandchildren are far away in CA and AZ, and I now have 12 great-grandchildren with two more on the way this summer.

My body says I will be 90 years old pretty soon (July) and some of you will know what that means, but I still get around well without any help.

Wishing you a restful Christmas and a Happy New Year.
Merry Christmas to each of you,
Verna

Holiday Greetings!

I have now lived in Collins for two years and just took my first trip to the coast for Thanksgiving.

Jim and Elinor were driving over to Puyallup to see Dan and Robin and their children and that gave me the opportunity to go along to see my family (brother Lyle) at Lake Tapps and sister Helen in Gallalin.

I like my apartment in Hill-Ra. There are 3 floors with elevators and stairs and 45 apartments. It has wide carpeted hallways with handrails, a large meeting room with a fireplace which is used for weddings receptions and many large food gatherings. There is also a large dining room where we eat our dinner meal together. All the meals are really good and nicely served each day at noon.

My Apartment

I attend the Cheyenne Bible Church with Jim and Elinor. It is 12 miles from town in the middle of the Palouse wheat fields. This Sunday we had the Christmas program with the children-toddlers thru highschool. They had a total of 75 children. On Thursday night the adult choir presented a cantata called "Welcome to Our World". The church was large and well attended.

Jim and Elinor live 3mi. away and Jim still works with photography, microscopes and a large garden. He has 20 apple trees and brought apples to Hill-Ra for everybody. I managed to deliver them around to all who wanted to make their own applesauce.

Point CA, where Eric and Andrea live and from them with their two children. Bob is still working but plans to retire soon. He enjoys sailing and just bought his own sail boat.

Erich and Cindy live 25mi. away with their 3 children in Palouse, where I lived when I was younger so I see them often, but the other grandchildren are far away in CA and AZ. and I now have 12 great-grandchildren with two more on the way this summer.

My body says I will be 90 years old pretty soon (July) and some of you will know what that means, but I still get around well without any help.

Wishing you a restful Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Merry Christmas to each of you.

Verna